R-R may, at its sole discretion, require the Supplier to suspend all performance under an Order for a period of up to six months. If such day is not a normal banking day then electronic transfer of payment will be on the next banking day. Where R-R collects goods from non-R-R premises, "received" means formal receipt by R-R's nominated courier or where the goods are delivered to R-R's premises, "received" means formal receipt by R-R's goods received area. Without prejudice to R-R's other rights and remedies, R-R may deduct from any payments due to the Supplier under any Procurement Condition the amount of any bona fide contra accounts or other claims that R-R may have against the Supplier in connection with the Procurement Conditions or any other agreement.

6. The Supplier will retain such items in good condition during performance and after completion of an Order and will not dispose of such items except in accordance with R-R's written instructions nor will such items be used other than for the purpose of such Order without R-R's prior written consent. The Supplier will ensure that such items are at all times identified as the property of R-R and do not become the subject of any encumbrance.

The Supplier agrees that R-R or their designated agent will have the right to enter the Supplier's facilities at reasonable times to inspect the facility, Deliverables, materials and any property of R-R. Such inspection will not constitute or imply acceptance of any Deliverables.

7.5 The material quoted, ordered, and delivered must meet all requirements of the Purchase Order Text, Drawing, or Yellow Card specifications unless approved by R-R prior to order acceptance via formal Request for Deviation (RFD). The Supplier shall seek from R-R formal approval of further deviations via RFD, at any subsequent stage of the procurement process, and subject to technical acceptability and commercial/pricing adjustments, as applicable.

Any finished Deliverables and any work in progress paid for by R-R under Clause 8.1 above will be delivered to R-R or be held by the Supplier as R-R property in accordance with Clause 5 above.

8.3. If R-R has reasonable grounds for believing the Supplier will be unable to substantially fulfil its obligations under the Procurement Conditions, R-R may require the Supplier to provide reasonable written evidence that the Supplier will fulfil its obligations. If the Supplier fails to provide such evidence within 30 days of R-R's request, R-R may treat that failure as a material breach and terminate the relevant Order or any agreement relating to the Deliverables in whole or part without any liability.

8.4. Either Party has the right, without prejudice to its other rights and remedies, to immediately terminate any Order or the Supply Agreement without liability, if the other Party commits any material breach of any of its obligations under the Procurement Conditions which, if the breach is remediable, it fails to rectify within a reasonable notice period stated by the first Party in its written notice of that breach (no notice period will apply for a breach of delivery terms). Either Party has the right, without prejudice to its other rights and remedies to immediately terminate any Order or the Supply Agreement without liability if the other Party makes a general arrangement with its creditors; or ceases or threatens to cease to carry on its business or a substantial part of it or is unable to pay its debts within the meaning of the applicable law as defined below; enters into liquidation whether compulsory or voluntary, except as a solvent company for the purposes of amalgamation or reconstruction; or has an administrator or administrative receiver of the whole or part of its assets appointed.
